Description of the "Terms" you will find it on your web statistics report:

Unique Visitors:

Is a single, individual person that views your website within a specified time period such as a day or a month. Each person visiting your site is counted only once during that period, no matter how many times they visit your website

Number of Visits

This is the number of times that your website has been visited. When you compare it with the number of unique visitors, this gives you an idea of the number of people who are returning to your site.

Page

This is a single page of your website, it may be your home (index) page, contact us page, about us or another page within your website.

Hits

A hit is a request made to the server where your website is hosted. Each file that is requested is counted as a hit. For example your home page may be a single .html page with 5 images on it. The number of hits recorded will be 6, as your .html page is one file and each image is also counted as a file. Therefore looking at how many hits that your website has received is not a very good statistical indicator.

Bandwidth

This is the amount of data (measured in megabytes) transferred from your hosts server to an internet user's computer. E.g. Someone views your home page and on it is text and images that add up to say 2mb, if 50 people view this page then the amount of data transfer would be 100mb. Your web host will specify the amount of bandwidth (data transfer) that your hosting plan includes each month. If you exceed this you will be charged for additional bandwidth. If you have a large site with lots of traffic, keep an eye on this statistic.

Visits Duration

This statistic shows how long people are spending at your website. If they are not staying long you may need to review your content or add an attractor to have them stay longer and view more of your site.

Visits duration
	Number of visits: 348 - Average: 302 s	Number of visits	Percent
0s-30s		262	75.2 %
30s-2mn		19	5.4 %
2mn-5mn		13	3.7 %
5mn-15mn		18	5.1 %
15mn-30mn		11	3.1 %
30mn-1h		17	4.8 %

Pages viewed or Pages URL or Page impressions

This statistic shows how many people are visiting each page. You may find you have even traffic visiting each page on your website or maybe that the majority of people are only visiting your home page and not going any further.

Referrers or referring URLs

Describes the website address where a visitor was before they came to your site. This gives you some idea of the websites or search engines that are referring traffic to your site and is also useful when considering your marketing plan. For example, you may notice you get some good traffic via Yellow Pages Online, so it may be worth considering including extra in your marketing budget for a slightly higher profile advert.
